

Understanding Secondary Teaching for Mastery

Joining a Secondary Teaching for Mastery Maths group is a brilliant way to grow as a teacher and make maths click for every student. It's not about adding more to your plate - it's about teaching smarter, not harder.

You'll explore practical ways to help students truly understand maths, build stronger foundations, and enjoy more "lightbulb moments."

You'll also join a friendly network of teachers who share ideas, swap tips, and support each other - with expert guidance from experienced Mastery Specialists who know what works in real classrooms.

This year, our Work Groups focus on Oracy and Equity, aligning departmental practice with whole-school priorities.

Walk away with ready-to-use strategies, great resources, and the confidence to make a real difference for you, your students, and your department.
