Course details

- Focused on advanced instructional coaching theory and practical techniques.
- Aimed at experienced mentors, lead mentors, CPD leads, subject curriculum leads for Trusts, or anyone who works on improving teaching and learning across a school using an instructional coaching approach.
- For those wishing to advance their knowledge of the theory behind Deliberate Practice.
- This course will offer support on how to set small action steps, supported by effective modelling to improve teaching and learning.
- Sessions will explore examples of effective approximations of practice in a low-stakes way, supported by precise feedback, and culminating in recomposition of practice in a lesson context, including video examples of this in practice with both primary and secondary teachers.

This course is run by the Teaching School Hubs in the East of England, in association with NASBTT

The National Association of School-Based Teacher Trainers

Cost for the 5-session course:

- £300 for Primary schools
- £400 for Secondary schools
- £400 for ITT Providers

For this cost, schools may send as many colleagues they wish on the course, as long as they are experienced in instructional coaching.

To receive the NASBTT Advanced Instructional Coaching certificate, participants need to attend all five online sessions.
