

NPQ in Leading Teacher Development for ITT practitioners

Who is it for?

This programme is for teachers and leaders interested in developing others, including those who have, or are aspiring to have, responsibilities for leading the development of other teachers in their school. You may have responsibilities for the development of all teachers across a school, or specifically trainees or teachers who are early in their career.

The NPQLTD is also aimed at current and future initial teacher training (ITT) lead mentors based in other settings such as universities. As the largest ITT provider in the country, our partner Teach First has developed additional ITT-specific content and learning opportunities to equip you with everything you need to successfully lead initial teacher training.

What will I learn?

You'll develop the knowledge, skills and expertise to lead the development of teachers, including sequencing and structuring professional development and effective coaching and mentoring.

Modules include:

- Teaching
- Designing professional development
- Delivering professional development
- Implementation

Topics covered in the additional content for ITT practitioners include:

- Understanding and applying the Core Content Framework to your ITT offer
- ITT reforms and what it means for you
- What ITT is and isn't – common misconceptions
- Mentoring and coaching for initial teacher trainees / novice teachers
- Equality, diversity and inclusion in ITT
- Partnership working in ITT.

Designed with busy teachers in mind, the NPQLTD is delivered over 12 months using a blend of online seminars, flexible online learning and 2 conferences.
